General

For most people, begin to study is the first experience with responsibility for own life. The first apartment, rental fee, insurances; Everyone knows, that you have to pay for these things, but only a few tens know their rights. The aim of SASLA is that law students develop legal advices for law-seeking students and give them the opportunity of legal consulting at no charge.

The Concept of SASLA

- legal advising
- for students by students of law
- as part of legal studies
- adapting academic learning process to real cases
- learning project management and teamwork
- improving key qualifications, for instance:
 - communication and interviewing
 - legal decision-making incl. selfcontrolling
 - empathy
